

Are you a newer member of Active Rain? Are you wondering how to make some friends here and be successful? There is a simple formula I will reveal and it is not complicated. I was a new member once, no one knew me and I felt a bit uncomfortable but over came it to gain a bunch of great friends. This is not a clique as some people think. There are a few steps that I promise will get you moving along. This post was inspired by a member who I invited who then asked me and another member why she was not getting many comments and gave up way too easy and it bothered me. I want this to be avoided. I am an Ambassador and if you need help are here to provide it.

- Write a variety of blogs that are different, not just market reports and make it interesting to the readers. There is no doubt that we are here in part for self promotion and to be noticed by the public. With that, write something that is humorous, pleasing to the eye like photos of your local area or a piece on something fun you experienced or advice on work or life that the reader will relate with along with those market reports.
- Comment on many blogs. When I say many I say that 20 a day is the minimum. There is no doubt you will not be able to do this every day but do it some days. If you look at your score you should have as many or more points from commenting as you do from blogging. If you follow this recipe you will find loyal bloggers who will comment back and forth with you every day. To get the people to recognize you put out a little extra effort in the beginning and it will come back to you greatly.

If you want help send me or anyone else you choose an email or give a call. I would be glad to hear from you and tell you my experiences. Active Rain is a unique environment where you will meet lifelong friends, get clients from your blogging and if you stick around you will pick up a referral from someone who sends a buyer or seller your way.
